2013 White Coat of Quality Award Recognizes Industry Leading Performance Standards for Clinical Quality and Best Practices in E-Prescribing

Albany, NY – May 7, 2014 –Daw Systems, Inc. - ScriptSure, a medical software developer of Electronic Prescribing and Electronic Medical Record (EMR) technology, announced today it has received a 2013 White Coat of Quality Award from Surescripts, the nation's largest health information network. The White Coat of Quality Award was established in 2010 as part of Surescripts' Quality Management Program and includes the following key requirements:

- Senior leadership commitment to a goal of zero electronic prescription content errors; Award from
- Measurement and reporting of e-prescription content error levels;
- Implementation of software updates to reduce e-prescription content error levels; and
- Communication and training for end-users on how to better utilize their e-prescribing system to reduce errors.

"Surescripts is proud that our collaborative efforts with software technology providers and health systems are producing continuous quality improvements in e-prescribing using industry proven best practices," said Ajit Dhavle, Pharm.D, MBA, Director, Quality Management, Surescripts. "Continuous quality improvement in e-prescribing benefits all stakeholders by improving patient safety, lowering costs and increasing productivity." Every day, millions of e-prescriptions are transmitted over the Surescripts network with a goal of 100 percent reliability—from the time a prescription is prepared to the time the medication is dispensed. Surescripts' Quality Management Program is designed to help software vendors and their end users make continuous quality improvements to help enhance application functionality, improve e-prescribing workflows and ensure sustained end user training. The annual White Coat of Quality Award provides a systematic approach to e-prescription quality. Organizations that follow the program's rigorous guidelines can mitigate inaccurate, incomplete, or inconsistent e-prescriptions, issues that can result in unintended consequences and costly workflow interruptions to prescribers and pharmacists.
